Okefenokee…it means "Land of the Trembling Earth," and while the land itself in Waycross and Ware County is stable – the movement you feel is from our ever changing

Welcome to Waycross located in the heart of beautiful Southeast Georgia at the northern tip of the Okefenokee Swamp Wildlife Refuge – the "Land of the Trembling Earth"! Waycross is a nationally-recognized Main Street City filled with Southern hospitality and charm. From the historic downtown district to the swamp lands of the Okefenokee, there is something here for everyone.

Stop by our Visitors' Information Center located in the Historic Rail Depot at 315 Plant Avenue and pick up a brochure of our self-guided walking tour through our historic downtown. The Visitors' Information Center has complimentary information and brochures on all of the wonderful and exciting attractions associated with the Okefenokee Swamp Park and National Wildlife Refuge including boat tours and excursion train rides through the Okefenokee Swamp Park. In addition, we are delighted to provide visitors with information and coupons for our 9 motels and B&Bs. And don't forget to step out the back of the Historic Depot to enjoy the sunshine and take in a bit of train watching as the CSX trains travel to and from the largest of 9 classification yards on the CSX transportation network located nearby. The Waycross Rice Yard covers 850 acres in Ware County and contains about 150 miles of track.

Visitors and residents alike enjoy outdoor activities such as birding, canoeing, and fishing in the natural areas surrounding our community. If you are a golfer, you don't want to miss the opportunity for outstanding rounds of golf at The Lakes – A Golf Course at Laura S Walker State Park. The Lakes features a natural beauty rare in golf courses today. Steve Burns' golf design was able to preserve much of that beauty by using native sand for the many traps and waste areas. Greens are undulating rather than tiered. Each fairway and landing area is defined with gentle, links-style mounds that accent the courses three large lakes. So natural is the course - and so close to the Okefenokee Swamp - that it's not uncommon to see an alligator roaming the waterways. What better incentive to keep the ball in the fairway?

In addition to natural and human resources, ours is a welcoming community where local governmental representatives, development authority professionals, and the Chamber of Commerce work together to see that our cities and county grow and prosper. We have two industrial parks with land available for businesses and industries. These parks have easy rail access and all utilities are available including fiber optic cable. Waycross-Ware County has 4-lane access to interstates, Jacksonville International Airport is just an hour's drive away, and is within close proximity to 2 deep-water ports. Our doors are open, our land is plentiful, and our Certified Georgia Work Ready workforce is ready to serve industries and companies, large and small, who want to call Waycross-Ware County home.
